An artificial neural network is a network of simple elements called artificial neurons, which receive input, change their internal state (activation) according to that input, and produce output depending on the input and activation.. An artificial neuron mimics the working of a biophysical neuron with inputs and outputs, but is not a biological neuron model.

A recurrent neural network (RNN) is a class of artificial neural network where connections between nodes form a directed graph along a sequence. This allows it to exhibit temporal dynamic behavior for a time sequence. Unlike feedforward neural networks, RNNs can use their internal state (memory) to process sequences of inputs. This makes them applicable to tasks such as unsegmented, connected ...

Lyme disease is the most common tick-borne disease in North America, and is transmitted by blacklegged ticks carrying Borrelia bacteria. Infection by a tick takes at least 24 hours because of the time required for the bacteria to travel from the tick midgut to its salivary glands.

The CPL is an interdepartmental neuroscience research laboratory at Cornell University in Ithaca, NY.. Work in our lab centers around questions about neural coding, neuromodulation, and the neural bases of learning and memory processes, and is mostly based in the olfactory systems of rats and mice.

Engineering seeks to create new processes, products, methods, materials, or systems that impact and are beneficial to our society. To enable its graduates to lead the advancement of technology, the Case School of Engineering offers fourteen degree programs at the undergraduate level (twelve engineering degrees, plus the BS in computer science and the BS in data science and analytics).
